Irish Psychometric Assessment Company Continues Impressive Growth

cut-e, a world leader in the design and implementation of innovative online tests and questionnaires for recruitment, selection and development, has this week signed a deal to provide online psychometric assessments to Morgan Advanced Materials in Asia. The deal will see Morgan Advanced Materials use cut-e's online assessments to assess staff applying for many of its roles in the Asia region. The company will also use cut-e assessments and consultants to help develop its staff and make selection decisions.

The announcement was made at a contract signing during this week's Trade Mission to Singapore led by the Minister for Jobs, Enterprise and Innovation, Mr Richard Bruton T.D.

Morgan Advanced Materials is a global engineering company offering world-leading competencies in materials science, specialist manufacturing and applications engineering. With more than nine thousand employees operating from more than thirty countries worldwide, Morgan thrives on breakthrough innovation to create outstanding, highly differentiated products that perform more efficiently, more reliably and for longer.

The deal was signed on Monday 10th February in Singapore during an Enterprise Ireland organised Trade Mission to the country and was witnessed by Irish Minister for Jobs, Enterprise and Innovation, Richard Bruton TD.

Speaking at the event Minister Bruton said: "cut-e is a great example of an innovative, export-focused Irish company with a world-class product offering. Their success in securing this contract with Morgan Advanced Materials demonstrates the quality of their service and underlines their continued success in growing their export markets. Supporting Irish ICT companies is a key part of the Government's Action Plan for Jobs and today's announcement is another example of what is possible in this area."

cut-e Managing Director, David Barrett said: "cut-e's growth in the last few years has been astonishing. We are delighted that so many of the world's largest and most respected companies are turning to us to assist them in ensuring they get the best talent in to their organisations."

cut-e's recent growth has seen the company open new offices in Dubai, Singapore, Melbourne and Kuala Lumpur in recent years to add to offices in London, Dublin and Galway. The company also has plans to open offices in New York and Mumbai in 2014.
